LONDON BOROUGH OF WALTHAM FOREST

MY STREET

Chris Robbins,
Leader of the Council

Cllr Khevyn Limbajee,
Cabinet Member for Housing

DEAR RESIDENT

Last year we launched our Private Rented Property Licensing scheme and are one of the few London boroughs to insist that every landlord in the private sector has a licence for every property they rent.

By introducing this scheme we can ensure that landlords take responsibility for their tenants' behaviour so that residents living in the immediate vicinity are not affected by anti-social behaviour.

We can also ensure that the standards of accommodation are in keeping with what we would expect and issues of overcrowding, dangerous conditions and exploitation of tenants are addressed.

At the start of this year we launched the first of many planned action days to go through the doors of hundreds of rented properties in the borough where we suspect landlords are not licensed or where there are unacceptable conditions.

So far we have issued 15,000 licences and are processing a further 2,000 applications, which shows that decent, responsible landlords understand the need to obtain a licence.

For those rogue landlords out there still without a licence or refusing to abide by the conditions of a licence, the message is very simple and very clear – now is the time to get your house in order, or pay the price.

Chris Robbins Khevyn Limbajee

We introduced our Private Rented Property Licensing (PRPL) scheme in April 2015 to improve standards and help reduce Anti-Social Behaviour (ASB) in the private rented housing sector.

While we know there are a large number of good landlords in the borough, we are clamping down on landlords who flout the law and leave their tenants to live in poor conditions.

Last month saw the official launch of Private Rented Property Licensing Action Days where a team of officers from across the Council work in partnership with the Police and Border and Immigration Services to target privately rented properties. The first action day saw more than 30 council officers visit nearly 800 properties in the Grove Green Ward in Leyton. They used shared intelligence from PRPL data, Council Tax records, Housing Standards and Planning enforcement information to identify landlords and properties of concern.

Along with partners, the team carried out scheduled inspections, police raids, planning visits, food hygiene and trading standards inspections and anti-social behaviour action raids. The action day was hugely successful with more action days taking place throughout the year.

If you know of an unlicensed property or need to licence a property, please visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/prpl

THE ACTION DAY IN NUMBERS

The official launch took place on Thursday, 21 January and resulted in the following:

793 doors knocked in the Leyton area

61 properties requiring further investigation

46 full licence inspections carried out

41 new properties identified as requiring a licence

30 dirty front gardens identified

19 Fixed Penalty Notices issued

7 fly-tips found

1 property closure notice served on a block of flats

£1.1million for Creative Zone

Council secures funding from Greater London Authority to develop additional creative workspaces in Blackhorse Lane

In October Waltham Forest Council made a bid to receive funding from the Greater London Authority's (GLA) London Regeneration Fund. The bid proposed to develop a Creative Industries Zone in Blackhorse Lane. Last month came the news that it had been successful in securing £1.1million.

Cllr Clare Coghill, Cabinet Member for Economic Growth and High Streets, told Waltham Forest News: "This project will transform underused space in the Blackhorse Lane area to provide workshop capacity and creative co-working space.

"Our business mapping exercises have demonstrated the rising demand for tech and creative start-up and move-on space. We need accommodation to meet the needs of newly established businesses, some of which have outgrown the incubator units at Blackhorse Workshop."

Blackhorse Workshop is a community-led space dedicated to making and creating that opened two years ago. Hundreds of local people make use of its facilities every week, which include a fully-equipped wood and metal workshop.

The new facilities that the GLA grant will help make possible will offer even greater opportunities for creative industry workers in the borough, providing diverse employment opportunities.

The development goes hand in hand with the Council's extensive homebuilding programme that aims to see 12,000 new council, affordable and private homes built in the borough before 2020, with 2,500 already earmarked for Blackhorse Lane.

Last year the Mayor of London designated Blackhorse Lane as a Housing Zone after the Council successfully pitched for the status. It means that this part of the borough, which has already secured more than £200million of investment from developers, can now shape and grow even faster.

What an honour!

Peter Rogers, far left, with Scouts from 1st Highams Park Explorer Scout Group at the World Scout Jamboree in Japan

Another extraordinary resident has scooped an award in the New Year's Honours list. Peter Rogers JP, a Highams Park resident of more than 20 years, has been appointed an Officer of the Order of the British Empire

(OBE) for services to children and families, and voluntary service to young people.

Peter has been a director of national children and families charity, 4Children, for six years. His background includes working as a teacher, youth worker, author and assistant director of the Scout Association. He also volunteers as a magistrate, scout leader, Duke of Edinburgh Award instructor and a governor at Highams Park School.

Peter has volunteered with the Scout Association since the age of 16, and helps run the 1st Highams Park Explorer Scout Group. He is also involved in Scouting at a national level, and accompanied 3,000 UK Scouts on a trip to the 23rd World Scout Jamboree, which took place in Japan in summer 2015.

Peter told Waltham Forest News: "It came as a pretty big shock that I was nominated for an honour, and it's fantastic that someone has taken the time to nominate me. It's quite a humbling experience.

"Scouting and working with young people is very rewarding, and I think it's important for young people to have positive adult relationships outside of the family environment."

The honours system recognises people who have made achievements in public life, or committed themselves to serving and helping Britain. Anyone can nominate someone for an honour, so if you know a community stalwart who has given countless years' service to other people or someone who has become an ambassador for Britain, why not nominate them for an honour?

In my opinion

Jacky Logan

Founder, Lesbian Reading Group

I formed the Lesbian Reading Group in 2008 following a LGBT History Month event. It meets on the second Monday of every month at Chingford Library (The Green, E4 7EN). Members travel from all over the borough to discuss books chosen by the group.

I have always been involved in breaking down the barriers that prevent LGBT people from feeling fully welcome in the borough where they live. I was also on the advisory committee for implementing the LGBT action plan.

Why a lesbian reading group you may ask? People attend for a variety of reasons. It beats isolation and gives members an opportunity to meet like-minded people in a safe space, where issues that arise in the books can be discussed in the context of their own lives as lesbians. One member says that it legitimises who she is; that the mainstream library is catering for her needs. Others say that there are few places to talk about same sex love, which often arise from issues in the books. There are two other reading groups that meet at Chingford Library and we have often joined together for author events.

The books discussed are often written by lesbian authors, or chosen because they have a positive female character as the main protagonist, but all manner of books are read and discussed. We are currently reading 'Casual Vacancy' by JK Rowling.

The history of the group is quite important. You have to remember that when it was formed, civil partnerships and gay marriage were not in place. At one event run by the group, a young woman from Uzbekistan came along and was overwhelmed by the open discussion. She was very grateful for recommendations of books that reflected her life. She could not return home to Uzbekistan for fear of persecution and at that time 'stoning' gay people as a punishment was in place.

The advantage of meeting in the library means that not only do you get a huge welcome from the staff, but books can be read in all formats. You can listen to them on CD or download them. This is good for those who are dyslexic or have a sight disability.

The group is open to new members, and we welcome any suggestions for favourite books or authors that you think we would enjoy. Please phone Chingford Library on 020 8496 1070 if you would like to join, or would like further information.

Community café now open

Residents recovering from drug and alcohol-related problems will be giving up their time to support a new community café project.

They will be volunteering from 11am to 3pm on Wednesdays at The Cornerstone, in Canterbury Road, Leyton, and from 1pm to 5pm on Fridays at The Hornbeam Centre, in Hoe Street, Walthamstow, as part of Café Life.

The project encourages local people to visit the cafés to take part in social activities including arts and crafts, board games, quizzes and competitions, while relaxing with a drink and snack.

The volunteers, all of whom have been supported by the Council's alcohol and drug services provider, Lifeline Waltham Forest, will run the Café Life sessions.

Sabbir Ahmed, a Peer Support and Activities Coordinator at Lifeline Waltham Forest, said: "All of the volunteers are in recovery themselves. For some it is about giving something back and helping others, while for others they want to keep themselves busy and maintain their recovery.

"One of our volunteers said that addiction had cost her many things over the years and now she feels that her life is getting back on track. This project is a way of building up her confidence and self-esteem to eventually move into some form of paid employment – the fact that she can potentially help others really appeals to her."

The Café Life project was made possible after Lifeline Waltham Forest and the Council's Public Health team proactively bid for, and successfully secured, funding from Public Health England to pay for a network of recovery cafés in the borough.

Cllr Ahsan Khan, Waltham Forest

Council's Cabinet Member for Health and Wellbeing, told Waltham Forest News: "Because Café Life is open to any resident wanting to pay a visit, we hope it will play a big role helping to break down barriers and challenge stereotypes of those recovering from alcohol or substance misuse."

Holocaust Memorial Day

Residents, faith leaders and councillors gathered at an event to mark Holocaust Memorial Day (HMD) at Waltham Forest Town Hall on Wednesday 27 January. Attendees met at the Anne Frank Memorial Tree for an act of remembrance, before proceeding to the Council Chamber. There, a number of faith leaders spoke, and the evening gave everyone present the opportunity to remember all those affected by genocides around the world. Holocaust Memorial Day takes place on 27 January every year. It was on this date in 1945 that the largest Nazi concentration and death camp – Auschwitz-Birkenau – was liberated. The theme of HMD 2016 is 'Don't stand by' and was chosen to encourage people to think about the action they can take so we do not stand by and allow genocide, persecution and injustice to take place.

LGBT History Month

MONTH!

LGBT History Month takes place every February

A colourful celebration of diversity is sweeping through Waltham Forest as the borough marks Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) History Month.

The Council has teamed up with community arts organisations, Salon Outré and Nick Walters Performance Projects, to champion stories of local LGBT residents through an inclusive array of free art and craft activities.

The community-focussed programme, which is part of the national LGBT History Month calendar, will also explore the themes of religion, belief and philosophy.

Salon Outré Director and LGBT Ambassador, Dan Vo, said: "The event is a unique and exciting opportunity to bring the community together in a family-friendly environment.

"LGBT History Month is about sharing stories and celebrating diversity. It's a great platform to open up dialogue, as well as increase awareness to challenge homophobia, biphobia and transphobia."

The fun and informative programme includes a series of free 'Crafternoon Tea' events, dance and music workshops, visual arts and performance. Residents will be invited to get creative with local artists, share their experiences and contribute to a LGBT Histories community mural.

Health and awareness information stalls will also feature at each activity to promote inclusion and understanding and continue educating people about issues facing the LGBT community.

Council Leader, Chris Robbins, said: "The events taking place during LGBT History Month are not only engaging and informative, but they also promise to be a real celebration of diversity – something we absolutely champion here in Waltham Forest. I would encourage residents of all backgrounds and from all walks of life to come together as a community to take part."

Crafternoon Tea events will include a 50-plus and seniors workshop from 12noon until 2pm on Monday 15 February at Chingford Assembly Hall (The Green, E4 7EN), a youth workshop from 7pm to 9pm on Wednesday 17 February in Leyton Youth Centre (Crawley Road, E10 6PY) and a family day with dance and music workshops from 12pm until 3pm on Saturday 20 February in Leytonstone Library (Church Lane, E11 1HG).

The final event will be an evening of cultural expression at the William Morris Gallery (Forest Road, E17 4PP) on Friday 26 February at 7pm. The evening will include art, music and dance. It is free to attend, but places are limited.

Arts for all in Waltham Forest

The Council has four key priorities to help improve the lives of everyone who lives and works in Waltham Forest. In this edition we look at what is being done to help residents enjoy a good quality life

The William Morris Gallery recently hosted a major exhibition featuring the work of Bob and Roberta Smith RA

Arts and culture are at the heart of the work we are doing now and in the future to help Waltham Forest residents enjoy a good quality life. In recent years we've taken huge strides in putting our thriving arts sector firmly on the map.

The award-winning William Morris Gallery has established itself as an internationally-recognised cultural venue, and we've boosted the number of opportunities for residents to explore their creative sides and take part in cultural celebrations. Here, we look at some of the ways the Council is making artistic and cultural opportunities accessible for everyone.

Our strategy

'Waltham Forest is aspiring to be the leading borough for arts and culture in outer London.'

This is the vision we've set out in our newly-published strategy, Arts for All, detailing our ongoing commitment to provide great culture opportunities in Waltham Forest and enhance the borough's rapidly-growing creative sector.

Our goal is for Waltham Forest to be known for an ambitious, high quality arts and culture offer, which involves local residents of all ages and from all walks of life, attracts visitors from across the capital, and makes an exceptional contribution to London's vibrant cultural scene.

The strategy outlines our continued commitment to invest in artistic and cultural opportunities for all residents. It also supports local groups and organisations that share our ambition to cement Waltham Forest as outer London's leading destination for arts and culture.

We hope to achieve the vision set out in the Arts for All strategy through a number of priority areas, including securing further investment in arts and culture through regeneration projects. We also intend to increase the number of local businesses involved in creative programmes, and to involve the borough's artists and practitioners in developing fantastic arts for all.

Art grants

We continue to support local arts organisations and groups through grants and commissions. We recently awarded ten Arts Development Grants worth a total of £25,000 – this is on top of the £128,000 awarded to fund creative activities in the borough since this grants programme began in October 2013.

The latest round has seen organisations across the borough awarded funding to involve and entertain residents through artistic projects. Rendezvous Projects secured funding to deliver a resident-led arts and heritage project capturing the transformation of Lea Bridge around the new Lea Bridge Station area. The project will include film screenings, social events, performances, exhibitions, a historical walk and a newsletter to create pride in the local area.

Walthamstow Community Production gained funding to produce a piece of community musical theatre in Walthamstow open to all Waltham Forest residents over five, with local people involved in every aspect of the production.

Residents in Chingford and Highams Park will be able to take part in a year-long therapeutic arts project after the 'CreativITEA' initiative was given funding, while Chiff Chaff Children's Theatre will deliver a unique piece of theatre in Leytonstone for children aged six and under. Funding given to Shapeshifter Productions will enable the group to encourage adults to learn to play a musical instrument

The work of Leytonstone resident Alfred Wire, who took this photo of his family on 13 June 1891, will soon be on display in Vestry House Museum

before taking part in public performances across the borough.

A further two innovative arts organisations – Wood Street Walls and Studio3Arts – were recently celebrating after being awarded Neighbourhood Arts Commissions to deliver exciting new projects in Chingford, Leyton and Leytonstone. These Council commissions are for two years and worth a combined total of £60,000.

Cultural destination

The Council owns and manages both Vestry House Museum, a local history museum telling the story of the borough through a series of permanent displays and special exhibitions, and the William Morris Gallery, which was awarded the Art Fund Prize for Museum of the Year in 2013 and was nominated for the European Museum of the Year Award in 2014.

Last month saw the Gallery's exhibition of work by Bob and Roberta Smith RA come to a close – but not before a series of art policies, all suggested by visitors to the exhibition, were gathered together for the next London Mayor to consider.

Bob and Roberta Smith – the pseudonym of artist Patrick Brill – advocates art education through his work, and so encouraged visitors to put forward their own policy ideas, which he will pass on to prospective mayoral candidates.

Examples include 'give every child a paintbrush', 'make all art galleries and museums in London free for all to visit' and 'more different cultures of art taught in schools'. The Gallery's next major exhibition – Social Fabric: African Textiles Today – starts on Saturday 20 February. The exhibition, which brings together textiles from the British Museum's collection, promises to uncover the links between the textiles of eastern and southern Africa and life in the region.

Meanwhile, Vestry House Museum's new exhibition, which opens on Saturday 13 February, will reveal one of its most significant collections – the work of Victorian photographer and Leytonstone resident Alfred Wire.

A 'swishing' event

Swish and sew

The North London Waste Authority and behavioural change charity Hubbub are helping fight clothes waste by running 'swishing' and sewing sessions in the borough. A 'Recolour your wardrobe' sewing workshop took place at Blackhorse Lane Studios at the end of last month, with a 'swishing' (clothes-swapping) session being held at Gnome House in Blackhorse Lane. According to research by Hubbub, unwanted clothing lurking in our wardrobes is worth £30 billion. So if you've got clothes you don't wear, why not recycle them?

• For more information, visit www.nlwa.gov.uk. Free internet access is available at all libraries in the borough.

Line closure

The Barking to Gospel Oak line is to close for eight months from June for a major upgrade costing £130 million. Many commuters will have to use the District, Victoria or Northern lines – as well as buses – as an alternative. The line's existing two-carriage diesel trains will be replaced with eight faster and greener four-car electric stock. Electrification work will mean the reconstruction of at least 12 bridges to accommodate new power cables. The line is now part of Transport for London's Overground network.

• For more information on transport links in the borough visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/transport-and-streets.

Better roads

Two separate road improvement schemes are due to take place in the north of the borough thanks to Waltham Forest Council. A new road crossing is planned at Jubilee Avenue in Highams Park, while parking in Armstrong Avenue, Woodford Green, is also set to be improved through planned changes. The latter development will see £20,000 leveraged from new developments in the local area to pay for the improvements. Detailed designs are currently being worked up for both schemes.

It's Spring Clean time!

- The Council's annual Spring Clean initiative has rolled around again
- Put a date in your diary to take part during the first two weekends of March

Schools, residents, businesses and community groups are being encouraged to get involved in Waltham Forest Council's annual Spring Clean initiative.

This year's Spring Clean is being organised in conjunction with Keep Britain Tidy, which is running a national campaign to help clean up Britain before the Queen's 90th birthday in April.

'Clean for the Queen' and Spring Clean will run over the first two weekends of March, so if you are interested in organising a clean-up in your area the Council can help provide the necessary equipment.

Last year's Spring Clean proved a roaring success, with community spirit, group involvement and good old elbow grease all contributing to a better borough.

Over the course of two back-to-back weekends local residents spared the time to make their neighbourhoods cleaner and tidier, from litter picking to painting, cleaning to pruning.

Literally thousands of individual residents were involved, with 48 different Spring Clean events, leading to the removal of 18 tonnes of waste and the planting of over 2,000 bedding plants.

Groups getting involved in the Spring Clean included local scouts, members of mosques, 17 schools and 31 residents associations. Selwyn Primary School in Highams Park had 250 children go out in shifts to pick up litter.

In Leytonstone residents gathered outside the station armed with bin bags and gloves for litter picking, and spades, rakes and shovels for planting. Aubrey Road Residents Association went even further; being supplied with heavy duty cutters, a tree saw and black paint for lampposts by the Council.

At the time James Phillips from the Aubrey Road group said: "It went really well and we had a great turnout. The alleyway looks really great with all the new flowers and we've opened up some new kerbside beds as well."

Juanita Azubuike from Ruby Road in Walthamstow said: "A fantastic amount of people came out to help. The main attraction of the day was the opportunity to move rubbish out of some of the front gardens. I think this practical opportunity to spring clean for some of the more vulnerable people on the street in this safe and supportive community atmosphere worked amazingly."

Council officers not only provided the right equipment and cleared away rubbish bags, but were also in attendance to ensure residents achieved their goals in transforming their neighbourhoods.

Ralph Meanley from Cleveland Park Residents Association was keen to praise the Council officers: "Please pass on our thanks to all your team. We could not have done it without all your help. There was a great sense of purpose and enjoyment there yesterday with a really good turnout."

"This year we aim for an even better turnout and to make an even greater impact," said Cllr Clyde Loakes, Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Environment.

"It's become an annual tradition that has really captured the imagination of local communities up and down the borough over the years. Everyone is welcome to take part and Council officers will be happy to accommodate requests for help and equipment."

Another recent initiative to help keep the borough clean has been the installation of Bigbelly bins outside The Scene in Walthamstow. The 'smart waste and recycling system' crushes waste so they don't need to be emptied as often and will send the Council an email when they are full.

The bins are currently being trialled, with plans to move them to Church Lane in Leytonstone after a few weeks.

Cargo bikes for hire

- You can now hire a cargo bike for free
- They are great for taking children to school or making local deliveries

You can hire this 'Christiania' cargo bike for free

A cargo bike hire scheme has been launched as part of Waltham Forest Council's £27million Mini-Holland programme. There are two cargo bikes available to rent – one for the school run or shopping trips, and one for businesses so they can carry out deliveries.

Hire is free and can be used as a taster before people commit to purchasing one themselves. They are great alternatives to the car and can be used for all sorts of journeys.

Cargo bikes, also known as freight bicycles, carrier cycles, box bikes, and cycle trucks, are human powered vehicles designed and constructed specifically for transporting loads.

The Council has two types – the Christiania and the Omnium. The Christiania is strong, durable and versatile and gives parents who normally drive their children to school the opportunity to try cycling as an alternative to the car.

It is popular with families in Denmark, Holland and Sweden for local trips to school or the shops. It is designed to carry loads of up to 100kg with ease, and is very easy to power as it has seven low gears. It has a bench, three point harness and waist belt to accommodate two children.

The Omnium is fast, light and manoeuvrable. It can be used for a variety of tasks and to deliver a wide range of goods. It is lightweight and not as wide as a three wheeled bike – making it easier to filter through traffic to get to where you need to be quickly.

To hire a cargo bike for free simply email the Mini-Holland team and let them know which bike you'd like, for how long, when, and if you're hiring it on your own, as a couple, family or business. This is because all users will need to have an induction and quick road test. You should also include your preferred contact details.

They will get in touch when they have checked availability, and will ask for a refundable deposit of £100 on the day of pick up. Further terms and conditions of hire are available on the Mini-Holland website.

You will also receive training, with an hour long induction and road test, to help you get used to the bike and be confident riding it.

Offenders helped to clean-up Gaitskill and Mace House estates

Community action

A further clean-up operation in the borough involving offenders on the Community Payback scheme took place recently on the Gaitskill and Mace House estates, Walthamstow. The Council's Central Ground Maintenance Team worked hand in hand with Community Payback and the Police and cleared the density of the hedges, tree branches and overgrown vegetation on the estates. These areas can be used by gang members to hide drugs and weapons, and a number of knives were found during the exercise.

You can join Eton Manor whether you're an experienced runner or a complete novice

A runaway success

- Eton Manor Athletics Club wants you to give running a try
- Club open to complete beginners and experienced runners alike

If, like us, you're carrying a little extra 'winter padding', you may be looking for a way to get fitter and healthier as springtime approaches.

The good news is that one of the borough's oldest athletics clubs is encouraging both new and experienced runners to join its ranks this year. Eton Manor Athletics Club is offering beginners' running courses as well as training sessions for youngsters and experienced athletes.

Trevor East, Eton Manor's Club Development Manager, told Waltham Forest News: "We're very proud that the club continues to go from strength to strength with each passing year. We're a very friendly, welcoming club and would love more people to get involved this year."

"You don't have to be a super fit competitive runner to join us, as we have group sessions for complete novices and a thriving youth section."

Eton Manor first started its 'Love2Run' beginners running courses nearly six years ago, and since then thousands of local people have gone from non-runners to being able to jog or run 5km in just ten weeks.

The sessions take place at 6.30pm every Monday evening at Waltham Forest Athletics Track (170 Chingford Road, E17 5AA) and at 7.30pm on Thursdays at Eton Manor's clubhouse in Leyton Jubilee Park (The Cottage, Marsh Lane, E10 7BL). Contact Eton Manor to find out when the next Love2Run course will begin.

"Every week, you are supported by the inspirational run leaders and given clear and achievable goals."

Trevor said: "The Love2Run sessions are great because we want to remind people that sport is for all, not just for elite athletes. Our dedicated team of running leaders teach you how to run. No one gets left behind; they are with you all the way and build your running up as the weeks progress."

"But the really great thing about the project is that some of our running leaders were previously novices who took part in the sessions themselves. And they're now helping others get fit and have fun too."

Leyton resident, Chantal Murrell, who joined Love2Run last year, told Waltham Forest News: "My journey from being able to run zero metres to being able to run 5km started on a freezing cold February night in Leyton Jubilee Park and ended with the Hackney Park Run just eight weeks later. Somehow, I ran for 34 minutes when weeks earlier I was unable to run for more than a few minutes without my muscles and lungs burning!

"Every week, you are supported by the inspirational run leaders and given clear and achievable goals. Everyone runs at their own pace. Some weeks I wanted to give up, but I kept on as I had the 5km in my mind and wanted to run it, regardless of how slow I might be! I also made new friends and we formed our own Saturday running group, which helped with motivation and fitness."

"Taking part in the course was one of the most challenging but life-enhancing and rewarding things I have ever done."

"Completing the 5km gave me the biggest adrenaline rush I have ever had and I will never forget it. If I can do it, you can do it too."

Many Eton Manor members run purely for enjoyment or personal fitness, but if you do like to race, the club competes in local, regional and national competitions. There is also a young athletes section for eight to 17 year olds which meets at Waltham Forest Athletics Track every Monday at 6.30pm. Youngsters receive coaching in all athletics disciplines from fully qualified coaches, and can also compete in local events.

The group's senior athletes meet at the club's Leyton Jubilee Park headquarters every Tuesday and Thursday, from 7pm onwards, and on Sundays from 10.15am.

Historical Society

Residents who have an interest in local history are encouraged to attend the monthly talks arranged by the Leyton and Leytonstone Historical Society. Membership, which costs £8, is open to all. The next talk will be 'Forbidden Love and Broken Hearts' given by speaker Georgina Green. The event takes place at 7.45pm on Thursday 11 February at St John's Church Hall (829 High Road Leytonstone, E11 1HH). All talks are free to Society members, while visitors are asked to donate £2 to help cover costs.

The Lee Valley Lions Junior Ice Hockey Club offers four-week taster sessions to young people aged five to 19. The sessions take place at Lee Valley Ice Centre (Lea Bridge Road, E10 7QL) on Tuesdays and Fridays between 7.15pm and 8.15pm and run throughout the year. In brief

Young people can apply to swim for free

Free swimming

Children, disabled people and older residents will be happy to hear that the Council has a range of free swimming options for those keen to take a dip this February. Waltham Forest offers free swimming for under 18s, over 60s, disabled people and members of the Armed Forces. Young residents can swim for free at any time at the borough's pools, programme permitting. All that's needed is a membership card which costs £1 from any Waltham Forest leisure centre. Adults aged 60 and over can also take advantage of free swimming seven days a week. To be eligible, you need a pay and play card, which costs £7.10 a year. If you are registered disabled, you and a carer can also swim for free. To apply for any type of free swimming, visit your nearest leisure centre with proof of age, address and disability, if applicable. Members of the Armed Forces can swim for free at any time by showing their ID card.

• For more information on leisure services in Waltham Forest, visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/leisure or www.better.org.uk/areas/waltham-forest.

Tinnitus Awareness

Residents who are regularly exposed to loud noises, such as amplified music or heavy machinery, are being warned to look after their hearing by the British Tinnitus Association (BTA). The call comes at the start of Tinnitus Awareness Week, which runs between 8-14 February. Tinnitus is a very common condition, with at least one in ten of the UK population experiencing noises such as ringing and buzzing in their ears. There is lots of helpful information and advice on the BTA website, and you can find out about special events happening during Tinnitus Awareness Week. You can also find out about the new 'Plug'em' campaign, which is raising awareness of protecting your hearing, and encourages people to wear earplugs at concerts, clubs and other noisy social situations.

• Visit www.tinnitus.org.uk or phone the BTA helpline on 0800 018 0527. Find out more about the Plug'em Campaign at www.pluginem.co.uk.

Waltham Forest winners!

- Waltham Forest sports clubs celebrate at London Sport Awards
- Boxing coach Jeffrey Clarke and Our Parks pick up honours

County Amateur Boxing Club coach Jeffrey Clarke, centre, was named Coach of the Year at the London Sport Awards

Our Parks founder Born Barikor, second from right, picked up the Making It Easier award

Two Waltham Forest-based sports clubs are celebrating after January saw them get off to winning ways at the London Sport Awards.

Jeff Clarke from County Amateur Boxing Club (County ABC), Leyton, was named Coach of the Year at the annual award ceremony, while Our Parks – which began life in Waltham Forest nearly two years ago – won the Making It Easier Award.

Waltham Forest Hockey Club, which provides hockey coaching to children and adults of all abilities and organises a mini hockey competition for the borough's school children each year, also received an honourable mention in the Club of the Year Award, but unfortunately did not make the final shortlist.

The award ceremony took place at Lord's Cricket Ground on Thursday 21 January. The winners were chosen by a panel of judges that was chaired by former Olympic rower Sarah Winckless MBE, and included former Boxing World Champion Barry McGuigan and Sky Sports broadcaster, David Garrido.

These were the second recent awards wins for both parties, as Jeff Clarke and Our Parks also won awards at the Council's Waltham Forest Sports Awards in November 2015.

Jeff Clarke is a dedicated boxing coach who has given more than 30 years' service to the community, and is described by his peers as 'an inspiration to the adults and young people who attend County ABC'.

Jeff's interest in boxing started at County ABC at the age of 13 in the late 1960s. He went on to box for London and England, and was even an Olympic hopeful.

Jeff has been a qualified coach since 1982 and volunteers to coach highly sought-after boxing and fitness sessions at County ABC's headquarters at Leyton Youth Club (Crawley Road, E10 6PY).

He has worked with, mentored and encouraged coaches, boxers, people with varying abilities, cultural backgrounds and ages, and this is reflected in the club's diverse membership.

Our Parks is the hugely popular fitness initiative that sees residents of all abilities enjoying group fitness activities taking place in the borough's parks. There are even a few indoor venues, for when winter temperatures are a bit too low for most peoples' liking.

Taking place in 15 different locations, with funding from Waltham Forest Council, you can enjoy everything from bootcamps and cardio tennis sessions to buggy exercise workouts and yoga classes, to name a few. Our Parks began in Waltham Forest in 2014, and has since spread to more than 14 other boroughs in London.

Founder of Our Parks, Born Barikor, told Waltham Forest News: "I'm over the moon that Our Parks has won another award – it's getting to be a bit of a habit! But, in seriousness, I'd like to thank all the coaches and 'parkers' for their amazing energy and dedication to Our Parks since the project began."

"It's amazing that our scheme that started in Waltham Forest has grown so much and that we've now had recognition London-wide. Our goal is to get as many people getting fit and having fun as possible, and I'm thrilled at our progress over the past two years."

Get involved in your local area

Gnome House received funding for a Saturday youth group, thanks to High Street Community Ward Forum

- Waltham Forest has 20 Community Ward Forums for residents to attend
- Find out what's happening in your area, speak to councillors and apply for funding for local projects

Did you know there's an easy way for you to keep up to date with what's happening in your neighbourhood, speak with your elected representatives and even ask for funding to help support community projects?

Waltham Forest is split into 20 'wards', each of which has three elected councillors to represent local residents. Each ward also has its own Community Ward Forum – which gives residents and businesses the opportunity to meet their councillors and talk about important local issues three times a year.

The meetings are generally held on weekday evenings, to allow as many people as possible to get involved. Find out when your Community Ward Forum meets by visiting www.walthamforest.gov.uk/cwf. If you're new to the borough, it's easy to find out which ward you live in. Simply visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/myplace and enter your postcode.

Each meeting has a set agenda, but residents can ask questions about Council projects, put forward ideas to improve their neighbourhoods and ask councillors to consider funding local projects.

Every year, each forum has £10,000 to spend on community initiatives. The money can be spent on schemes that support older people to stay active in their local communities, to tackle anti-social behaviour, for events that encourage community cohesion, activities that encourage participation in arts and cultural events, and more.

Residents can make suggestions for funding by contacting their ward councillors or speaking at a forum meeting. All suggestions and local projects must benefit residents living in the ward.

Voluntary, community, sports or arts groups cannot apply directly for funding. However, residents' project ideas can be delivered by the Council and partners, such as housing associations, as well as constituted voluntary and community sector groups and organisations that meet the Council's criteria. Smaller projects of up to £300 can be resident led and delivered.

One group that has benefitted from funding is the East of Market Quarter (EMQ) Residents Association. It applied for funding from Hoe Street Community Ward Forum for a number of projects including; a street party for 250 people, planting trees, erecting bird boxes and installing two 'Little Free Libraries'. Their most recent funding was used to stop anti-social behaviour in an alley between Hoe Street and Eastfield Road by adding a gate to stop unauthorised access.

EMQ founder, Gloria Wood, said: "I find Community Ward Forums incredibly interesting, as you can hear from the police and Council and meet other local people. You feel completely at ease standing up and asking a question. It's an example of real, local democracy.

"I think the forums help make the neighbourhood feel more cohesive, and I'd encourage anyone who wants to improve their area to attend."

Chingford resident, Graeme King, applied for funding to replace 15 windows at Old Church (All Saints) Community Hall in Old Church Road through the Endlebury, Larkswood and Valley Community Ward Forums. The hall is well-used by local groups, including cubs, brownies, guides, rangers, scouts, community groups and church groups, and was awarded funding of £4,500.

Graeme said: "We were made to feel very welcome, and I like the fact that meetings are interactive. Residents were encouraged to ask questions and give their opinions. It wasn't just that the councillors had an agenda to push and that everyone had to follow.

"The church hall is used every single night. The new windows have helped improve security, and are saving us money on bills. The hall is now much more welcoming."

Gnome House, the community arts and culture hub in Blackhorse Lane, received funding from High Street Community Ward Forum.

Volunteer director, Mark Burton, said: "We received funding for a Saturday youth group. About 60 children come along every weekend and do a variety of activities such as dance, film-making, music and art. I was down at Gnome House recently and it was brilliant to see the place full of energy and excitement. The feedback from both children and parents has been fantastic."

Cllr Liaquat Ali MBE JP, Cabinet Member for Community Safety and Cohesion, told Waltham Forest News: "Community Ward Forum meetings are the perfect way for you to come together with like-minded people from your neighbourhood and talk about the things that matter to you. I encourage residents to go along and put questions of community interest directly to their councillors."

Find out if you can get free childcare for your two-year-old

Free childcare

Some two-year-olds in Waltham Forest can get up to 15 hours a week of free early education and childcare. Good quality early learning can help children make new friends, try new activities, build their confidence and have fun. Parents and carers can also benefit from having more time to organise their busy family lives.

Two-year-olds who are eligible for funded childcare can start receiving it from their second birthday, if they attend a childcare provider in Waltham Forest. Many childcare providers offer funded sessions, including day nurseries, pre-schools, nursery schools and childminders. There are also new Stay2Play sessions available, where parents/carers can stay with their child while they enjoy their free play session.

Praise for primary

A primary school in Walthamstow has been named as one of the country's 100 top performing schools in terms of the progress pupils make between key stage 1 and the end of key stage 2. Teachers at South Grove Primary School (Ringwood Road, E17 8PW), received a letter from Nick Gibb MP – Minister of State for Schools – praising their role in helping pupils improve their reading, writing and maths skills. Headteacher Julie Maltwood said: "This letter is testament to all the hard work, commitment and vision from the leadership team, Governors, staff, pupils and fantastic support from parents. We are really proud to have achieved this but continue to strive to improve the school and its educational provision for all of its pupils and parents." Cllr Mark Rusling, Cabinet Member for Children and Young People, said: "Our schools offer a high-quality education for all pupils; this national recognition shows that very clearly."

The Waltham Forest (Charged-For Parking Places) (Amendment No. ) Order 201

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the London Borough of Waltham Forest (the Council) under Sections 90A and 90C of the Highways Act 1980, the Highways (Road Humps) Regulations 1999 and Section 23 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 proposes to introduce:-

(a) a speed table in Church Road E10 between Nos. 305 and 311 Church Road; (b) an upgraded raised “Toucan” crossing in Church Road E10, outside Willow Brook Primary School so that the centre of the crossing is situated outside No. 201 Church Road. Associated zig-zag markings, on which vehicles would be prohibited from stopping at all times, will be placed on the carriageway either side of the crossing (extending northwards to a point outside No. 209 and southwards to a point opposite the common boundary of Nos. 195 and 197 Church Road); and (c) a new raised pedestrian and cycle crossing in Church Road E10 adjacent Leyton Grange so that the centre of the crossing is situated outside No. 132 Church Road. Associated zig-zag markings, on which vehicles would be prohibited from stopping at all times, will be placed on the carriageway either side of the crossing (extending westwards to a point outside No. 136 Church Road and eastwards to a point outside the common boundary of Nos. 126 and 128 Church Road);

The speed table and entry treatments with sinusoidal ramps would be elevated sections of carriageway approximately 75 – 100 millimetres (+/- 5mm) higher than the surrounding carriageway, extending across the full width of the carriageway. The gradients would measure between 1.5 and 3 metres in length.

The elevated section of Toucan and pedestrian and cycle crossings mentioned above will extend across the full width of the carriageway with ramps measuring between 1.5 metres and 3 metres.

2. FURTHER NOTICE IS GIVEN that the Council proposes to make the above-mentioned traffic Orders under sections 6, 45 and 124 of and Part IV of Schedule 9 to the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended. The general effect of the Orders to coincide with cycle improvements, “Copenhagen Style blended crossing” entry treatments at junctions (shared highway and footway space for moving vehicles and pedestrians) and new and revised crossings would be to:

(a) remove “at any time” double yellow line waiting restrictions for up to a maximum distance of 12 metres on both sides of Capworth Street E10, Gloucester Road E10, Malta Road E10, Marsh Lane, Palamos Road E10, Park Road E10, Villiers Close E10 at their respective junctions with Church Road E10. Waiting restrictions at these junctions with Church Road will be converted in to Copenhagen Style blended crossings (short sections of waiting restriction may remain but in most cases all will be removed – parking is prohibited on the crossings);

(b) upgrade the existing single yellow line waiting restrictions to “at any time” waiting and loading restrictions on the east side of Church Road E10 from the common boundary of Nos. 363 and 365 to the common boundary of Nos. 301 and 303 Church Road;

(c) provide “at any time” waiting and loading restrictions on Church Road E10:

The cycle tracks are proposed to aid cyclists to link with existing and new cycle links and networks along key routes and to avoid fast moving traffic on the carriageways.

4. Plans of the proposed measures, copies of the Orders, the Council’s Statement of Reasons for proposing to make the Orders and of plans showing the location and effect of the Orders can be inspected during normal office hours on Mondays to Fridays inclusive until a period of 21 days from the date on which this Notice is published, at (a) The Information Desk, Town Hall, Forest Road, Walthamstow, E17; and (b) The Reception Desk, The London Borough of Waltham Forest, Low Hall, Argall Avenue, London, E10 7AS.

MAKING SURE YOUR STREET IS CLEAN GREEN SAFE LOVED*RESULT*SQUALID CONDITIONS DEALT WITH

Squatters in this property were making lives of neighbours miserable. Residents wanted the landlord to sort out the problem. The Council served the landlord with a community protection order (CPN), to remove the squatters but he failed to cooperate.

On the day, officers discovered appalling living conditions, water flooding through the walls and criminal damage which was having an impact on residents.

Under the ASB Crime and Policing Act of 2014, a closure notice and CPN were issued to remove the squatters and secure the property. The squatters were referred to Thames Reach for support.

WORKING WITH A LANDLORDRESULT

A property was discovered where the managing agent had sublet the property to more than double the number of tenants than the landlord was aware of.

Working with the landlord, officers identified further breaches at several of the properties that the landlord rents. A one year licence was issued instead of a five year licence, and the landlord has been asked to address the breaches during that time.

The landlord said, "The scheme has helped me to improve living standards at my properties and ensure that I operate as a responsible landlord. I'm very grateful to Waltham Forest."

RESULT*DIRTY FRONT GARDENS

During the Action Day, officers from our Neighbourhoods Team seized the opportunity to identify and tackle environmental issues such as dirty front gardens, fly-tip and graffiti.

It's the irresponsible few who bring down the appearance of our streets and Waltham Forest is taking action to against people who spoil it for others. Fly-tips were recorded for contractors to clear promptly, graffiti removed and warning letters and notices issued for dirty front gardens.

HOW TO REPORT AN UNLICENSED PROPERTY

To date we have issued 15,000 licences and are processing a further 2,000 applications which shows we have a large number of good landlords in the borough.

There are still a number of rogue landlords that need to licence, so if you know of any unlicensed properties, then please contact us.
